PayDrill Review – Smart Data Analytics for Paypal Sellers to Make More Sales

Are you paying to an account firm to keep track of your PayPal transactions?

Let's end that. Here let me show you!

There are over 179 million PayPal users in world nowadays, and we are one of them including you. Sellers and Resellers are using it to send and receive money for their products and services. However, there are valuable information that PayPal doesn't show you at all.

If you are not now aware of them, here they are:

How much is a customer worth to you?

How many repeat customers do you actually have?

Who is your largest customer & which country are most of your buyers from?

What time do you get most of your sales?

How frequently do your sales come in?

We have been waiting for these features to be added to PayPal for so long, but it didn't happen. This could be the reason why we are still paying to an account firm to answer all of these things.

Well... That ends today. Yes! It definitely will.
